THE FULL FEATURED DESKTOP PUBLISHING PROGRAM FOR USE WITH GEOS™

geoPublish™ makes sophisticated desktop publishing quick and easy. Ideal for newsletters, bulletins, or any graphic design task. geoPublish contains an extensive array of refined features–everything you need to produce first class publications.

geoPublish
documents with multi-column layouts, such as newsletters and brochures.
Start by defining a "master page", which contains invisible guidelines, text, and graphics that will appear on each page. If you are designing a newsletter which will have facing pages, you can draw up separate left and right master pages. You may also load a master page definition from a library of pre-designed formats.

Page Layout mode defines text and graphic regions, flow text from geoWrite into any column format desired, overlay graphics on text columns and watch the text automatically wrap around the graphics. Use Text Grabber to convert any non-GEOS wordprocessing document into geoWrite format. Use the built in wordprocessor to edit text after it has been placed. Move or resize any text or graphic region at will.

Page Graphics mode contains a sophisticated objective oriented draw program complete with special text capabilities for adding captions to pictures or entering headlines in up to 192 points (2½" high!). Work on the full page at preview level, or zoom in on any portion of the document for detail work.

Make use of the many specialized tools for crafting your publication–center, crop, or scale pictures; draw lines in multiple widths and patterns, draw in opaque or transparent mode. Over 25 different functions combine to make geoPublish your chief publications coordinator.

System requirements: Commodore 64, 64C or 128 (in 64 mode); GEOS 1.2 (or later); 1541 or 1571 disk drive; mouse or joystick.

A WHOLE NEW WORLD FOR THE COMMODORE 64, 64C AND 128 COMPUTERS.
